

Speaker Biographies:

Amy Pothier

Amy is an accessibility and building code specialist as well as an interior designer (ARIDO). Amy focuses on creating user-friendly spaces, combining her expertise in accessibility and building codes with architectural and interior design. Amy strives to promote inclusivity and Universal Design to design professionals in an effort to reduce barriers in the built environment.

Jesse Klimitz

Jesse is an accessibility specialist and intern architect with the Ontario Association of Architects (OAA). Jesse imparts his passion and expertise in balancing architecture with evolving accessibility standards and Universal Design practices. His areas of expertise include accessibility standards, wayfinding, training, business development and project management.